

The Kestrel

You are still part of the Dark Forest, but now you've slipped inside someone's skin. Sometimes their brain will be on auto-pilot, and they will act and talk like normal. But when you feel like it, you will speak with their voice and walk with their legs. You're still yourself, in their skin.

second to no one: Start diving off of the tallest things you can find. Stand up and brush yourself off. Do it again. Shrug and walk away if someone asks you about it.
