MOVES

You get this one:

abyss opens up: You have a talent or a skill that you downplay most of the time, but sometimes you can't help but hear things. You ignore it for the most part, but sometimes the clouds part and golden fire rains down. Roll+witch. On a hit, the MC tells you something new and interesting about the current situation, and might ask you a question or two; answer them. On a 10+, the MC gives you good detail. On a 7-9, the MC gives you an impression. If you already know all there is to know, the MC will tell you that. On a miss, be prepared for the worst.

And choose 2 more:

blood will thicken: you are able to choose a small area as your sacred space. Baptize it in the manner most fitting to you, and clear 2 decay if you share it with someone. Mark 1 decay if they share it with someone else.

My bitter half: when you welcome the dark forest, it will describe its kinship to you. You may demand a demonstration of sincerity, if you wish, but you will share in its power until you betray it.

I roar back: When you seduce, manipulate, or nurture by using your talent or skill, add this option to the list.

- you benefit from their unintentional kindness violent, more violent: describe how you set up your sacred space to attract another. Name who you want to attract and roll +witch. On a 10+, they show up and are won over by your display. On a 7-9, they show up, but they aren't in the mood to play nice. On a miss, the wrong person shows up at the worst time.

you will ache like I ache: when you draw upon your unnatural authority and tell someone they have disappointed you, roll +witch. On a 10+, pick 2. On a 7-9, pick 1:

- deal them 1 decay by gesture
- heal 1 decay by laying on hands
- remove them from the area without touching them
- imprison them in nature

On a miss, you suffer what you intended for them threefold.

this tainted soul: when someone challenges you, roll +bitch. On a 10+, name how they will fail and the MC will make it come true, if remotely possible. On a 7-9, they can either back down or take physical harm, their choice. On a miss, you take physical harm and fail in your current venture.

walking study in demonology: Spend favors, 1 for 1, to get help bailing one of your friends out of trouble. This can be literal help, a quiet word to somebody, or loan of an item. If someone backs out of helping you, mark xp, but lose the favor.

MOVES

doorway of my demise: You can't control your sass, but sometimes it comes in handy. When you speak your mind to someone despite your misgivings or possible danger, choose one:

- clear 1 decay
- take 1 forward

On a miss, your backtalk opens up an opportunity for humiliation.

And choose 2 more:

devil's snapping at your toes: when you screw up, fill your decay track and take +1 forward until you clear 1 decay.

nightmare in the daylight: when you assess a tense situation, you always get what's my best escape route/way in/way past? for free.

queen of the neighborhood: when you try to figure out the direction of the last place you slept, roll +spitfire. On a hit, you know roughly where it is. On a 10+, you know the shortest, most direct route. On a 7-9, you think you know the way, but you will either encounter the unexpected or inconvenient, the MC's choice. On a miss, you will go to a very dark place.

so different from those other shits: when you take time to listen to your friend's pain, they clear 2 decay.

big girl now: when you meet someone important (your call), roll +bitch. On a hit, they've heard of you, and they're impressed. On a 10+, you've intimidated them all to hell and they'll do whatever they can to appease you (within reason). On a miss, they've heard of you, and they don't like what they've heard.
